Design Summary

The central plaza features oversized games and acts as a hub that connects all of the park's major design elements. To the west, a perimeter veggie fence visually separates the gardens from the rest of the park and creates a separation between the public and reservable garden areas. The large community gardens feature reservable and accessible raised planter beds with opportunities to compost, a shared storage shed, and shaded seating areas. An outdoor classroom sits adjacent to the community gardens and is easily accessed from the proposed parking lot. The eastern half of the park features all age play areas with shade shelters, water play, a reservable picnic shelter, restroom and large turf area. Phase 1 construction would include the parking lot, community gardens and a portion of the central plaza; phase 2 would include the park entry enhancements, outdoor classroom, picnic plaza, and restroom; and phase 3 would include the 2-5 year-old, 5-12 year-old, and water play areas.
